Chatham Flower Farm
Low Till Cut Flowers
Who We Are

John and I own & operate on our historic 3.7 acre farm in Painter Virginia. Our farm dates back to 1690. It was originally a king’s land grant farm for tobacco growing of 3500 acres. We feel fortunate to grow on the same soil as many generations.

We are Certified Naturally Grown, Certified American Grown, Certified Delmarva Grown, members of Slow Flowers, Rooted Farmers and the American Dahlia Association. We grow a large variety of Specialty Cut Flowers and Herbs. Our main focus is Dahlia growing and we have about 300 varieties in the ground this year.

Our crops are organically managed. We use no pesticides, synthetic fertilizers or harmful chemicals. We have a small greenhouse made out of old windows and everything we grow is started in seed trays and then transplanted into the beds. We offer seasonal flowers from April until November.

COVID CHANGES - We decided to forego a few new varieties of flowers and reduce the amount of some of our popular types, to allow for some food production to help support our community. So we added basic produce, some more edible flowers and more herbs than normal. We have also started giving flowers away weekly to someone we do not know or to a random customer that we want to surprise and brighten their day.
